PROFIT BY THIS

Don't Waste Another Day

When you are worried by backache; By lameness and urinary disorders; Don't experiment with an untried medicine.

Follow Norway people's example. Use Doan's Pills. Here's Norway testimony.

Verify it if you wish:
W. O. Needham, retired farmer, 230 Main St., says: "At different times when I have taken cold my kidneys were affected. I began using Doan's Pills when my kidneys needed a tonic and they always strengthened my kidneys and cleared my system of the excessive uric acid. I always felt better in a short time and I know Doan's are what gave me relief. (Statement given July 24, 1908.)"

On September 3, 1920 Mr. Needham said: "I haven't changed my opinion of Doan's Pills. Doan's benefited me greatly and I haven't lost an opportunity of recommending them since."

"TO BE OR NOT TO BE"

There appears to be more suicides during the summer months than during the winter. The reason for this we leave to psychologists to explain. Touching this matter of suicide, a philosophical friend has described a recent interesting experience.

This gentleman, who finds life good and very much worth while, discovered a husky young man sitting on a bench in one of the city parks. The lad was out of work and could find nothing to do, so he said. Responding to sympathetic questioning, he confided to the philosopher that he had decided that the world was no place for him; no place for failures. He had decided to die.

Our friend is wise; he understands the morbidity of youth. He did not sneer or indulge in ridicule; but before he had finished with his object lessons the despondent youth was ashamed of his lack of courage and spirit that he declared his intention to be and remain a man. Before the day closed he was successful in finding work and still is usefully employed.

What was the magic formula which led a soul from the valley of self-created despair up the slopes that are bright with the sunlight of hope? There was no magic about it. The process was very simple. Our philosopher took the young man for a walk about the city, showing him a man who has never walked a step in his life, but who is a successful plumber; he brought him to another who had but one arm and one leg, who was a gardener; he took him to others who were blind or maimed or otherwise defective, all at work and glad to be alive. As he looked upon these physically afflicted and socially handicapped men, the subject of this experiment admitted his cure, the cringing coward who had thought to go out of the world was become a man strong in spirit and hopeful for the future.

Many a morbid tremor on the brink of self-destruction could be saved to the world if interest, sympathy and kindness might be his in the hour of his dark soul crisis.

HOW ABOUT YOU?
When Abraham Lincoln was a young man he ran for the legislature of Illinois and was badly swamped. He next entered business—failed—and spent seventeen years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner. He was in love with a beautiful woman to whom he became engaged—and then she died.

Entering politics again he ran for Congress and was badly defeated. He then tried for an appointment in the United States Land Office, but failed. After this he became candidate for the United States Senate and was defeated. In 1856 he became candidate for the vice-presidency but lost the race. In 1858 he was once more defeated, this time by Douglas.

In the face of all this he eventually became one of the country's greatest men, if not the greatest. How would you stand in face of such setbacks? Think it over.

PROGRESS
The Prosperity of a Community is not measured by Population, but its Civic and Commercial Progress. A handful of Workers achieve more than a city full of drones.

Team Work is what counts in everything. A prominent football coach recently said: "Give me a team of average ability who will work together, each with the other and all for the team and I will win over any team made up solely of individual stars."

Individual ability makes great men—shining lights, but it is Mass Co-operation of energetic men of Civic Spirit, Home Pride and Community Enterprise that builds a town's Progress and Prosperity.

Men of this community, be ye more than mere residents—be Citizens. The shirker says: "Let George Do It." The Worker says: "Let Me Help."

Moore's Won't Leak

Price $2.50 and up

The principle which makes this pen non-leakable is the method of sealing the reservoir by a hard rubber cone. By the employment of a screw-thread at the mouth of the barrel which engages another thread in the cap the pen is made bottle-tight. It can be carried in any pocket, hand-bag or traveling case without danger of leaking. When you put the stopper in a bottle and a cap to hold it in place, you know it cannot leak. This result expected by theory is proven in practice. The Moore Non-Leakable Pen cannot leak for it is

FISHING DOWN THE CUSHMAN BROOK

In memory of two sons, years ago, my heart enjoys real thrills. At fishing down the Cushman brook from Stubb's and Owl's Head hills. It flowed from Green Turner's farm, at Stubb's hill's marshy base. And crossed the Leonard pasture next. Right through our own home place. The next stage was mid Bissbee's field, which Cushman once did till. Then under bridges, with the stream. To reach Owl's Head hill. At Owl's Head foot, the Turner brook, joined with the Cushman stream. 'Neath hemlocks tall and oaks gray—I see it as I dream. 'Twas at the junction that I caught a ten-ounce trout one day. Which Mother took when I got home. And promptly gave away. Green Turner's wife was awful sick. My mother commiserated that trout. To give Green's wife a treat. She ate it all. She then got well. An thanked me for the fish. And so, I couldn't just explain. The gift was not my wish. She weighed it on the springyard. That ten-ounce, red-spot trout. And how I'd watered at the mouth. What time I pulled it out. A-fishing down the Cushman brook I caught the fishes small—The one I ate victoriously. Alone I now recall. 'Tis best that mother had her way. And helped a sickened friend. But memory of that one big trout With me can never end. The Cushman brook to South Pond flows. Right where it used to run. By ledge and pool in shade of trees Or under glazing sun. Now many miles from Buckfield, Maine, I sigh for boyhood gone. And from our household—seven once—But two of us live on.

THE SHIP OF FATE

Here upon life's turbulent ocean,
While upon its heaving bosom
Ships of fate sail on and on,
Some are bound upon a journey
Far across its foamy breast,
Some are drifting just for pleasure,
Others anchored lay at rest.

Some are freighted well with treasures
Bound for realms as rose the main,
Others weighted down with sorrow,
Sinking never to rise again.

Still the ship of human progress
Plows a furrow deep and wide,
While the craft of earthly conquest
Rides in triumph o'er the tide.

Will they find their side for safety
When dark tempests fill the sky,
Can they hold the ship at anchor
When the dangerous shifts are nigh?

Let us shun the shallow waters
O'er the hidden reefs of woe
And keep safely in the channel
Where the deeper currents flow.

Where our shipwreck shall befall us
While our brother's gone astray
Will be dashed by raging breakers
Shattered by the hosts swept away.

Let us choose that trusty helmsman
Who has sailed the same dark way,
He will keep our ship from founder,
When the shoals of sorrow lay.

We can trust his dauntless courage,
He will guide us safely on
Through the darkest hours of midnight
To the harbor and the dawn.

To the harbor and the dawn.

A KINDLY STATE

Some things are more to be desired than gold; yea, than much fine gold. It is a great thing to have Maine called a prosperous State; but it would be an even greater thing to have it known far and wide as a kindly State. A kindly State is made up of kindly people, and while Maine people, by and large, possess this desirable trait, there is always room for improvement. Kindness grows from taking pains. It roots in the rich soil of neighborliness. It is nourished and increases as we stop and think and act upon the thought that most of those we pass on life's highway need the gift of a smile more than the loan of a dollar.

There are thousands of ways to promote kindness. Why wait till New Year to make good resolutions? Let us here highly resolve: Never to drive to Grange meeting with an empty seat; never to let a neighbor's crops or animals suffer when illness lays low; always to have a smile and a wave of the hand and perchance a cheery greeting for acquaintances passed on the road and for all children whether known or not; never to let flowers used in church or Grange wither, for there is always someone too weak or too busy to grow flowers who will cherish them a while longer; never to hesitate to praise where praise is due; always to give the other fellow credit for being just as fair and honest as you are yourself; always to—but why go on? The list is endless. You can carry it on all summed up in this "covering" resolution: "As I go down life's pathway, if there is any good I can do, if there is any kindness I can show, let me know it and do it—for I pass this way but once—Herald.

HAD TO LET HOUSEWORK GO

So Ill Husband had to do the Work. Completely Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

South Bend, Indiana. "I was all run-down, tired out, and had pains in my back and bearing-down pains. I was so sore I could hardly drag myself around and was not able to do a bit of housework. My husband worked all day in the shop, and then came home and helped me at night. The doctors said I had female weakness, and there was no help but to be operated upon, and of course that would cost us a great deal. My husband heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the factory and one night he stopped at the drug store and bought me a bottle of it. I had begun to think there was no help for me, but I took three bottles of it and now I feel like myself once more. The price for three bottles wasn't so much as the doctor had charged. I can't praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough."—Mrs. DORA OSBORNE, 430 Sherman Avenue, South Bend, Ind.

Women troubled with female weakness should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial—now. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Cap'n M. Standish made a mistake—

HE sent J. Alden round to tell the girl and as a result Cap'n Miles had to keep right on mending his own iron socks.

We're neither bashful nor conceited like Cap'n Miles may have been. We'd like to have your heart and hand so far as building materials go.

On the County road from Paris Hill to Buckfield, about two miles from Paris Hill near the residence of Grant C. Royal, is a small yard in neglected condition filled with small bushes, weeds and rubbish; the fence is poor and it sadly needs care. In this yard the writer finds three graves. There are others but was unable to find any stones.

David Bonney of Sumner married Sally Wright of New Gloucester and lived in a house that has been burned, opposite this yard. He had a family of six boys and three girls. Betsy J. Andrews was the wife of Rev. Otis Andrews at one time the pastor of the Free Baptist church at Buckfield. At her death she left one girl, Nellie E., who was taken care of by her sister, Mrs. Benjamin C. Briggs. It had three stones in first class shape and six graves marked by common field stones.

John Royal, the early settler of the town of Paris, was the son of Eli of New Gloucester, and was born September 10, 1778. He married Polly, daughter of Jesse Briggs, and settled in the Whitehouse district. He had two sons. A slate stone at his grave in this yard bears the inscription:

Fresh Air In Closed Cars

Danger if Closed Tightly, Precaution in Closed Garage

A friendly warning to auto drivers, and especially to those who drive closed cars—was issued today by the Maine Public Health Association to the Maine State Department of Health. With the coming of cool weather many drivers of closed cars are sometimes inclined to close all the car windows. This lack of ventilation is dangerous to health, especially if a waiting car with tightly closed windows is occupied. The danger is somewhat lessened if the car is in motion because a certain amount of air is then forced into the car through the floor boards and other apertures.

Those who drive closed cars in stormy or cold weather are urged by the Maine Public Health Association to keep one or more of the windows slightly open for their health's sake. In warm weather this advice is followed automatically by every driver—comfort demands it. It is estimated that the amount of air space in closed cars may average from sixty to ninety cubic feet. Two persons in a closed car must exhaust all the oxygen in the air in from ten to thirty minutes, depending upon the freshness of the air in the car when they entered it and upon the speed with which the car may be traveling. When the oxygen in the air has been depleted, headaches, a feeling of drowsiness and general lassitude often develop. These symptoms of impaired functioning of the body through lack of fresh air are often followed by more serious illness. In this connection the M. P. H. A. again reminds us that "Prevention is better than Cure."

Another danger to auto owners which develops with cold weather is death through breathing carbon monoxide gas. This danger is found most often in closed garages. Many drivers at this time of year will start their car in the garage and "warm it up" for several minutes before opening the garage door. The carbon monoxide gas thus created has no ready means of escape from the garage as it has in warm weather when the garage doors are open. The gas known as carbon monoxide is especially treacherous for it has no odor and its action sometimes is very rapid. The breathing of the poisonous gas into the lungs often leads to serious sickness.

"Cold weather annually brings in a crop of illness and death due to lack of ventilation in garages and in closed cars," said Dr. Clarence F. Kendall, State Health Commissioner. "The cases of sickness and these deaths nearly always could be avoided if all car owners would see to it that their garages are well ventilated and if drivers of closed cars would make certain that one or more windows are open wide enough to permit a constant change of air inside the car."

ATTENTION MR. FARMER

Here is A Profitable Crop
The National Recreation Club—a non-commercial organization—desires to secure camps for the use of members of the Club.

The ideal condition is a large farm, not over a mile from the automobile road, with the owner living on the property, where the member can drive into the yard and continue on to a camping site located in a grove, or field, with shade, and good drinking water nearby. An opportunity for bathing and fishing is a great attraction.

The requirements are well drained land, firm enough to support a large automobile (about 2 tons) and sufficiently level to allow car to be driven along side of tents and large enough to accommodate 20 automobile camping parties at one time; at least 5 acres, not necessarily all in one field. Land owner to supply water, receptacles for refuse and two toilets, and it is expected the farmer will sell farm produce.

The Club members furnish their own camping equipment and pay you for the privilege of camping on your lot.

If your farm meets the above requirements and has one of those wonderful State of Maine views of lake, mountain, swimming hole or any other natural attraction, send full description to The National Recreation Club, 755 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

IS FITNESS TO DRIVE TEST COMING?

A. L. A. Shows What It Would Mean. Car Defects Poor Excuse for Accidents

Are you ready to take your driving test? Upon the result depends whether you continue to be a driver or a pedestrian. Have you a real man to man, honest and common interest in reducing the killings on our highways? Are you perfectly willing, if the test proves you nervously unfitted to drive a car under present day conditions, to step down and out of the drivers seat? For that is what such a test would mean, or are you opposed to sacrificing your personal privilege of driving for the sake of humanity?

If a driver's test for all becomes a reality each operator of a car must prove that in an emergency he retains his wits, is a quick thinker, knows just what to do and does it. Your education is not in question, nor your age, color or the state of your finances. Only your nervous reaction.

Tens of thousands of motorists would go "all to pieces" in an emergency. Tens of thousands of auto accidents are yearly averted because cool heads, quick brains and hands are in charge of cars. But all drivers are not so constituted, hence accidents and hence the test for this condition is on its way.

Why not? Every locomotive engineer undergoes a rigid qualifying test. An auto driver travelling 300 miles of highways in a week is confronted daily with the possibility of accident to himself or others a thousand times to an engineer's once.

Agerson hit squarely by an auto moving 25 miles per hour is as dead as one hit by a locomotive going at the same speed. There can be no comparison of chances between an auto in the public streets and a locomotive on a private right of way. There appears to be as great a reason why an autoist should undergo a test for fitness to drive as an engineer of a locomotive.

If accident statistics and investigations prove anything of value they show that accidents are primarily caused by individuals, operators or pedestrians, and not by defective equipment. Accidents caused by defects in vehicles are so few as to be almost negligible. Out of 3331 fatalities reported for seven months in 1924 to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, only 64 were due to defects in machines.

Why was time spent holding up cars and traffic by testing brakes on the streets, when so few accidents are due to them and so many to incompetent drivers? An incompetent driver will have an accident just as quickly whether his brakes are absolutely perfect or otherwise. A competent driver knows his car and knows exactly what he can do with it and drives accordingly. He wouldn't be competent otherwise.

Get after the incompetents, weed out the careless, jail the drunk and the reckless and scientifically test all for fitness to drive. That is the complete program of the near future.

Many an incompetent autoist has a Safe Drivers' Club sticker pasted on his windshield. This does not mean that a Safe Drivers' Club is not a help. But such a sticker often covers a multitude of sins. If he is incompetent from any cause joining a Safe Drivers' Club won't make him a safe driver. Neither will perfect brakes, nor properly adjusted head lights, both absolutely necessary, of course, helps.

Of the 3331 fatalities referred to, only 33 were due to "too strong lights on vehicle," less than four one-hundredths of one per cent. It is public money wasted trying to curb accidents in this way.

The National Taxi Cab Company, owning the biggest commercial fleet of its kind in the world, keeps all its vehicles in perfect condition. But accidents are a daily occurrence. Why? Not because of defective equipment, but because of individual carelessness, failure to react properly and traffic conditions. To cut down the accidents due to careless driving and nervously unfit operators so far as humanly possible, every driver is given a test to learn how he is likely to react under certain traffic and emergency conditions.

That these tests, worked out and given by Dr. Snow of Northwestern University are of value, is proved by the fact that 90 per cent. of those who made low grades were found to have unfavorable accident records and the who made good grades were found to have clean accident records, on the personal cards of each driver kept by the Company.

Statistics show that in proportion to their use commercial vehicles figure in most accidents. As a start, the driver of every commercial vehicle in the nation should be compelled to undergo these tests in the interests of safety. Later, all drivers. The daily lists of accidents covered by newspaper reports reflect the crying need of competent drivers. Putting them to the test is one way of getting them.

WEST FRYEBURG

Recent callers at Mrs. Jacob Bean's from North Conway, N. H., were Mrs. Walter Tenney and daughter, also Mrs. Carl Tenney.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harriman are going to take their little boy back to the hospital the coming week.

Mrs. Arthur Andrews of Lovell has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Lewis Charles.

All are glad to see Mrs. Mittie Shaw's house open again as it has been closed all summer.

Miss Nina McAlister visited her cousin, Mrs. Lewis Charles, one day last week.

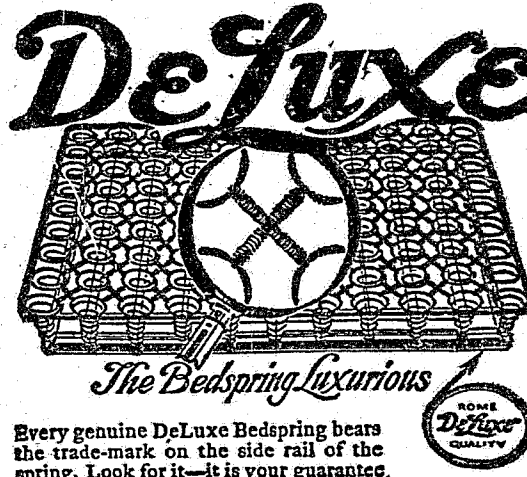

Charles Stevens is busy with his tractor cutting corn fodder in the neighborhood. Filling silos is the order of the day just now.

The frost came earlier in the season than the farmers wanted to see it on account of the sweet corn, but most of them got a more satisfactory profit than was expected at one time. The new corn shop at Fryeburg Center is a nice up-to-date shop and is a great benefit to the farmers in this vicinity. Report says it has been a great success and that it is going to be enlarged.

An old story. A tough little boy entered a new school. With him was the following note to the teacher from the boy's mother. "Alfred is a frail child, and cannot stand much punishment. In the event he is naughty, and needs discipline, please whip the boy next to Alfred, and that will frighten Alfred and prove."

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Judkins are stopping at Francis Cole's.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cole and family were at West Paris, Sunday.

WHY AMERICA EXCELS

Americans are often criticised for their love of pleasure and lack of thrift with time and money. It is often charged that we spend too much time in the theatre, the dance hall, the motor car, the stadium and other resorts of pastime. The pleasure-loving Frenchmen believe we are coming around to their way of taking life. The dull English and the sober-side at home remember the decline and fall of the Roman empire, but most of us know that none of them see us aright.

The word "pastime" was derived from the phrase "pass the time." A usual definition of the contraction is some expedient to keep time from lagging. This is not, however, the definition which can be applied to the pastimes of the need of a stock of fresh air, re-creating that Americans love sport and pleasures for something more than a desire to play and to be spendthrift with time. That something is the recognition of the need of a stock of fresh air, recreation and exercise to restore us to perfect health after the rigors of winter and to prepare our bodies and minds for the tasks of the next winter. The average American plays not for surcease from work but for strength for work. There are no people on the globe who work as industriously and vigorously as Americans and so there are none requiring as much recreation.

LEAVES OF CRIMSON AND GOLD

Beautiful leaves of crimson and gold. You are falling one by one. Back to your home on Mother Earth. When your summer of life is done. Gone with the days of summer so fair. To come back no more to the trees so bare. Leaves of crimson and gold.

Beautiful leaves come drifting down. Leaves of crimson and gold. Do you live again in our Father's Book. In leaves of crimson and gold? In our Father's House is the tree of life. With leaves so wonderfully fair. With leaves that never fade away. But are always bright and clear. And we think of the leaves that fade away. On earth so dark and cold. Do they live again on the tree of life. In leaves of crimson and gold? —Mrs. Viola Herrick.

Some time ago it was commented that married men live longer than bachelors. In reply H. A. Ashbury of the Morrow-Thomas Hardware Company sent the following: "Married men don't live any longer than the bachelors; it just seems longer."

Concert

There was a large attendance at the concert at the Congregational Church, Tuesday evening, by the Pilgrim Male Quartette of Boston, and Miss Helen Andrews of Auburn, the auditorium being filled and many extra seats brought in. The program was varied and the numbers were warmly applauded and each were very generous with encore selections.

The personnel list West, lead tenor; Tucker, 2nd tenor; Bar, baritone; and the famous Eugene Cowles, basso. Cowles made a great hit with the "Armourer's Song." This is the song he made famous in the opera "Robin Hood." Those present who had heard him in the opera, say that he never sang better than Tuesday evening. He received three encores on this song.

Mr. Tucker was warmly received and responded to several encores, as did Mr. West. To the great delight of the audience, Mr. Baker sang "The Lost Chord," assisted by the quartet. Mrs. Ruth Cummings Huston did effective work as a pianist. Miss Andrews of Lewiston, the reader, was at her best and her readings were finely rendered and received hearty applause.

Many were present from out of town.

Mrs. Katie Meserve of Laconia, N. H., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles P. Kimball, the first time in many years she has visited in Norway.

Prof. and Mrs. W. R. Chapman were in town, Saturday.

Miss Edith M. Smith returned Tuesday from a few days' visit with relatives in Portland.

Boosting Company C

Officers of Company C, 103rd Infantry, worked off a surprise on the boys of the drill Tuesday evening. The affair was a Boosting got-together with chow served at 7:30 in Legion Hall. A musical program and speeches. Chow was not army feed but real chicken pie, mashed potatoes, boiled onions, bread and butter, cranberry sauce, celery, custard pie and coffee. Lester Witham was in command and assisted by Mess Sgt. A. J. Hunt and Corporals Haskell and Judkins. Sixty hungry boys went over the top and carried the works and practically cleared that section of chicken and egg pie. It sure was some supper.

After the smokes were going, Lieut. Witham acted as toastmaster for the program which lasted fully one hour. Capt. Harry Twitchell was the first victim called on for remarks. He explained this affair is only the beginning of a series of good times to break the monotony and make drilling attractive. He stated plans were under way for a transfer of quarters to Legion Hall which were more congenial than the present drill hall. Capt. Twitchell spoke his appreciation of Lieut. Witham and assistants in putting across the chow. He called for three cheers which were given in a way to start the rafters.

Corporal Arthur Chumard and Joseph Crooker, who won honors on the Maine team at the National Rifle shoot at Perry, Ohio, failed to escape, so related their experiences on the recent trip. Corp. Crooker urged all members to take an active interest in target practice and be in shape for the State shoot next year. He proposed to coach a team on the indoor range during the winter.

George Tubbs, a sharpshooter in the old Co. D, formerly a member of the State team and trophy winner, stated if the boys wanted competition a team at the W. F. Tubbs Snowshoe Co. was waiting for a match. He believed a contest would help the company and create interest.

Lieut. Witham responded to a call for a speech and gave the boys good advice in his remarks urging close attention to duty and a willingness to bring in recruits. Military service is a patriotic duty every young man should desire, thus fulfilling his obligation as a coming citizen. Lieut. Thompson also urged the boys to get into the game and score a bullet's eye.

Walter Chandler urged cooperation and explained it was the duty of every soldier to become a pinch hitter for his superiors, for upbuilding of the company and for efficiency.

The musical and general program was entertaining and appreciated as many encores indicated. Numbers included selections by Alton Geer, piano and Alva Richardson, saxophone; vocal selections and dancing by Master Emery Wentzel; a piano jazzed by Myron Gilman; singing by Private Francis Gammon, "Red"; Tompkins, Harvey Perry, Theodore Ayer, Edwin Gammon, Geo. Dresser and Sgt. Philip Prince. Mandolins, saxophone and piano assisted with several selections. Myron Gilman was piano accompanist during the program. Exercises closed with the whole singing "America."

Everybody enjoyed the evening and are anxious for another real army jamboree which will be held in the near future.

Ile O' Smiles

Arrangements have been completed whereby the Twin Town A. A. Baseball Club, will present "Ile O' Smiles," one of the Philbrook Productions' popular musical comedies, at the Opera House on the evening of October 30 and 31.

A large cast and chorus have been assembled by Harold Anderson and rehearsals will begin at 7:30, Thursday evening, October 16, at the Opera House, under the direction of B. O. Shields of the Philbrook Productions.

"Ile O' Smiles" is a regular professional Broadway Production having enjoyed long and prosperous engagements in New York, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia and other large cities.

It was later secured by the Philbrooks for Amateur Production, the high royalty released, and has since been given by amateurs in Bangor, Waterville, Fitchburg, Taunton, Berlin, N. H., St. Johnsbury, Vt., and in over 200 other New England cities and towns with great social and financial success, the Twin Towns A. A. having received glowing reports from nearby communities.

A detailed account will be printed in the next issue of the "Advertiser," giving the full cast of characters and different chorus groups, etc.

Miss Susie Bradbury has a position as dietitian at St. Joseph Hospital at Syracuse, N. Y.

A house party was held at one of the Shogers over Saturday night and Sunday. Several Norway people were guests of Miss Doris Shepard, and included Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ham and daughter, Ernestine; Roy Morrill, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Frost and daughter, Virginia; Adeline Deoster and David Klam.

Doris Brooks, who is teaching in Athleboro, Mass., was at home over the week end and holiday.

Percy Parker of Lynn, Mass., has been at home for a few days on account of the illness of his mother, Mrs. Sumner Parker.

The Court and members of the Oxford Bar Association were given a banquet at the Beals Tavern, Tuesday evening. It was largely attended by the lawyers and ladies. Donald B. Partridge, clerk of courts, was toastmaster and presided over the affair. Appropriate remarks or speeches were made by many of the attorneys.

The officers of Company C, 103 Inf., are taking the ill out of drill with a series of entertainments, suppers, and a general good time during the coming months. An indoor range will be operated to encourage target practice and experienced coaches will show the boys how to win "possibilities." There are fifty-eight enlisted men on the roster and recruits who may qualify can find a pleasant evening just. Capt. Harry Twitchell, First Lieut. Lester Witham and other officers have plunged into the big job of putting Co. C among the leaders in the State National Guard.

Norway would not have been found wanting in the weighing in the balances on the entertainment question, Tuesday evening. There were three important banquets, a concert, a dance, the movies, lodge meetings and radio. This place is anything but a "kerosene" village or a so called hay scale hamlet.

Mrs. Agnes L. Morley of South Paris will substitute as organist at the Congregational Church during the absence of Mrs. H. L. Horne.

Club Notes

Nature Club

The Twin Town Nature Club entertained an October Sunset Picnic at the home of its vice president, George R. Howe, "Summit Study" on Pike's Hill, Monday night. Guests arrived before the sunset hour from Oxford, South Paris and the village. The western clouds were colored with varied beautiful tints over the blue line of the distant mountain ranges.

A fire blazed in the open fireplace and the guests enjoyed a picnic supper in social groups. There was no business meeting, just a delightful evening of sociability.

Members present included: the host, George R. Howe, Mrs. Sarah Parlin, Julia Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Park, Stephen Russell, E. P. Crockett, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Maton, Supt. and Mrs. A. G. Kiwanis Club

The Norway-Paris Kiwanis Club held their meeting last week on Friday evening when they entertained the teachers of Norway and Paris and vicinity. Supper was served by the ladies of the Congregational church which included grapefruit, mashed potatoes, cold roast lamb, salads, coffee and a variety of pies.

President Walter L. Gray called the meeting to order and called on Dr. D. M. Stewart who explained that the Kiwanis Club was about to take up a branch of work along the line of underprivileged children and that the teachers could be of great assistance to the club in working out this undertaking. Among the out of town guests present were George O'Grady, Major Philbrook, Walter Harmon and Jim Traverse of the Portland Kiwanis Club who gave some very interesting remarks showing what is being done along the line by the different Kiwanis Clubs and especially the Portland Club. The past summer's work included entertaining 57 underprivileged children of Portland at a camp at Pleasant Pond in Casco under the proper conditions which proved a wonderful benefit to the children and much satisfaction to the Club. The Club also has been busy along the line of giving charitable aid to children when necessary as well as providing happiness for many at Christmas time. Another line of assistance brought out was to aid those in schools who are in need of assistance for the removal of obstacles which impede their progress.

Reports of the physical conditions as they exist in our towns were made in a general way by Alden B. Hayes, George E. Lord, Mrs. Cummings of Paris Hill, Miss Flavin and several others, who showed these were worthy cases which need attention.

A prize of $5 was offered to the teacher who would send to the Club the best music to the poem which was distributed entitled "If I Knew You As You Know Me."

The meeting of the Kiwanis Club, Thursday, Oct. 16, was at the Odd Fellows' Hall at South Paris. The speaker of the day was Judge Charles P. Barnes.

LET THE OTHER FELLOW KNOW

Any man in any business that depends upon public approval and patronage for its success has a perfectly reasonable method open to him to keep himself and his business before the buying and patronizing public. Advertising is a medium that offers the quickest route to success and failure to use it consigns the whole proposition to an early failure. If the public is misinformed or uninformed about a great deal that is offered for sale, the result may be discovered in the lack of proper and sustained advertising. Success is not some mysterious element that chances to drop in here or there to enrich this or that person. It is a problem that has been

Easy Money for Hard Times
Vivian W. Hills, the optician, has a chance to clear up $120,000 in one sweep. A pitiful letter purporting to be written by a prisoner in Spain tells about the seizure of baggage in America. One trunk contains a secret pocket wherein are concealed two checks valued at $36,000. One third of this amount will be given the person willing to assist the prisoner in securing this prize. Answer must be by cable, not by letter.

Similar letters have been received by business men in this vicinity during the past few months but so far as learned no action has been taken to relieve the victim in duress.

It is doubtful if the optician "falls" for this bonanza. He lacks the romantic sense and will leave the humanitarianism to a sentimental fortune hunter less sophisticated in the ways of "sob" stuff.

The interior of Ben Richardson's house on Whitman street is being painted and the family will move in at an early date.

Mrs. Esther Bryant of Avon, Mass., and her daughter, Mrs. Ada Randall of Hartford, Me., are visiting her niece, Mrs. E. S. Bissell.

Shirley Milliken has an eye for antiquities as does his sparring partner, W. H. Cripps of South Paris. While working at the Brown home, formerly Oxford County court house, at Paris Hill, they discovered an old fashioned round trunk lined with newspapers. The paper was "The Political Repository or Farmers' Trade," published at Bradford, Mass., Nov. 19, 1799, and probably the original print. The quality of the paper was not common to the times, with type clear and readable. The trunk is an heirloom and a curiosity to the majority of the people.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hill and daughter, Mrs. Peter George, of Lynn, Mass., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Shilby E. Milliken. On Sunday the party were taken on a sight seeing trip to Poland Springs, Lewiston and Auburn.

The place as it now appears is unsightly and an eyesore to all who observe it. The project that is planned but will not be completed until the large group of students. The high school athletic association is financing this project and will be very grateful to any individual or organization that will assist with the expense.

The football game for Saturday, Oct. 18, is with Livermore High School at South Paris. This will be a hard game and a large amount of support is desired.

The Community Club of South Paris has awarded a penmanship prize of fifteen dollars to be used as follows: A prize of two dollars and fifty cents for the student in the Senior High School who is considered the best writer and the same amount for the student in the Senior High School who shows the most improvement in writing. The same amounts will be presented to students in the Junior High School and in the Grammar School. Much emphasis is being placed on penmanship and the prizes serve to create an interest in that form of school work.

The following students have had 100 per cent in spelling for the week ending Oct. 10 in Grade 8: Frank Clark, Mabel Davis, Frances Knight, Ruth Nutting, Mabel Slattery, Miss Taylor and Edwina Whitney.

The Latin Club will meet next Wednesday.

Strange how some folks can get by in this build a life without work. It would seem sometimes that the lazy louts are the ones that can do it; somehow they manage to get enough grub, but it comes out of others who have to work hard to support them. All some folks want to do is ride around and eat the bread of idleness.

Cast Away from all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourself and live ye.—Ezekiel 18:31, 32.

Wants To Go From House To House And Tell About KARNAK

Bangor Woman's Remarkable Recovery
After 11 Years Suffering Made Public

"I just feel like going from house to house and telling everybody in Bangor about Karnak," declares Mrs. Jennie Bevan, 78, Stillwater St., Bangor, Me., in telling of her wonderful recovery by means of Andre's phenomenal new preparation which is being so widely discussed everywhere. "Not so long ago I couldn't walk at all and my husband had to help me around the house," continued Mrs. Bevan. "Every night I made was agony. Even at night my suffering kept me awake and I was in such terrible condition I couldn't even lift my arms. My stomach was so dreadfully upset that the slightest kind of food caused me to suffer with gas, biliousness and headaches, and my nerves were almost a wreck. "Words can never express my gratitude to Karnak, for it has ended all my suffering and put me in the very best of health. Why, I can even go up the stairs two steps at a time now. I just wish every suffering person in the State would try Karnak."

Karnak is sold in Norway exclusively by Frank P. Stone, and by the leading drug stores in every town.

WELCHVILLE COMMUNITY FAIR

FINE FALL WEATHER AND MANY FRIENDS MET

At least 1,000 people gathered at Welchville, Saturday, for the annual Community Fair under the auspices of Oxford Grange. The show centered around the Grange hall and was a fine exhibition of home craft and farm produce was arranged upstairs and a typical Grange dinner served in the dining hall. Friends met friends in regular old home day fashion.

Baseball on a lot near at hand and pulling horses on a side road added sport for older people not dazzled by the mid-way flash and trinkets.

The dinner is one of the high spots at this annual show and again proved an attraction well patronized. Many waitresses provided quick service and there were no long waits. A good sum was realized in the hot sales which seemed to work against the desire for hearty food.

Automobiles were parked in every doorway and along the highway with State Patrolman Eugene Stevens on duty during the unsparing process toward night.

Pulling Horses

Nine pairs of horses went after the prize of oats soon after dinner. W. E. Gammon was chairman of the committee and had general oversight of this important contest. J. J. Hall and A. G. Hayes were linemen. A. L. Chaplin was starter and Frank Hayden of Auburn, the veteran horseman, held the watch.

The load was in proportion to each team—one and one-half pounds of oats to one pound of horsehead. One general class was considered and each team had a fair chance. A hard, smooth road permitted rapid pulling and the teams made good records for distances. A. E. Daniels of Paris Hill held the big mark until Oscar Trundy of Hebron, the last to pull, jumped into the lead with a team of four. Two pairs from the True Farm, Mechanic Falls, driven by G. W. Edwards and Arthur Edwards made good showing and worked easily.

Summary:
Oscar Trundy, Hebron, distance 576 ft. 6 in. weight of team, 2840 lbs.
A. E. Daniels, Paris Hill, distance 525 ft. 11 in., team 2810, load 4215.
True Farm, Mechanic Falls, distance 510 ft. 2 in., team 2980, load 4470.
True Farm, Mechanic Falls, distance 459 ft. 4 in., team 2750, load 4125.
Arthur Grover, Oxford, distance 418 ft. 5 in., team 2650, load 3975.
G. W. Edwards, Webb's Mills, 387 ft. 1 in., team 3140, load 4710.
Jack Hill, Oxford, 167 ft. 6 in., team 2700, load 4050.

Among the vegetables and fruit were 13 varieties of seed beans, apples, tomatoes, cabbages, squashes, a trace of pop corn, New Zealand spinach, etc. A collection on a pewter platter attracted attention. This platter was the property of Motley Holmes Soule, born in Plymouth, Mass., in 1768 and settled in Oxford in 1858. Several giant sunflowers embellished the exhibit.

Large, well formed potatoes were shown by Clover Lane Stock Farm. Raymond Coy had three King of Monmouth pumpkins and a Banana Muskmelon. Myron D. McAllister showed two mammoth pumpkins, one weighed 88 pounds and not milk-fed.

Tyner, where tall corn stocks and pollywogs were in evidence. Vegetables, fruit, butter, honey and comb from the farm were nicely arranged. The aforesaid tadpoles, while not up for prizes, proved interesting for October and a spring fruit. Dallas Benson went strong with several coops holding Dominique Game cockerels and Black Spanish cockerels. There are five specimens and Dallas was on the spot talking up their fighting qualities.

Midway and Sports

Some twenty-five tents and booths squatted around the Grange grounds and transacted business with eats, drinks and price packages. Madam Stanley ventured to read palms and Henry Downs endeavored to coax away dimes with the high striker. Clothing men and blanket vendors were out of luck in the hot weather on Saturday while ice cream cones and cold drinks flowed over the counters in a lively manner.

Bridge of Bridgton popped corn as usual against an opposition of five other corn vendors. Oxford Grange had an attractive booth provided with a stock of runners and a crocheted rug. Evelyn chaff offered a tempting display of grapes and real estate pieces. "Stub" Full and real estate pieces. "Stub" Full operated a ten pin game and made a dollar if the size of the hangings indicated anything. Mr. and Mrs. James York carried on several stands.

In fact the chances to spend money were many. Ball rolling, whoop-la, tin-type machines, dart games and other money coaxes abounded. There must be something in it else they would be among the missing. They came in greater strength than last year and gounded on the Community like a flock of sparrows. Business proved slack until the crowd arrived in the afternoon then the gentry went after the coin until the last farthing was mopped up.

Baseball

Teams representing Oxford and Casco worked up steam after a long delay, and secured enough players to stage a game in the rear of the Methodist church. The late World series had nothing on the show for excitement and sport. So long as ball was kept in the air, all went well. Let it land and a searching party would start a hunt. In spite of a rough and boggy field the few side line stragglers opportunity to 'kid' the victims. Casco won with a score 17-3.

Dancing

Grange Hall was crowded to capacity in the evening during the dance, music being furnished by a Lewiston orchestra.

BRIDGTON

Women's Club

The members of the Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, at Moose Hall, on what was a combined pleasant and sad occasion, the nature of the affair being a farewell party to the retiring president, Mrs. Alice Gilman, who, with her family, has moved to Westbrook. A business meeting at which the routine business of the Club was taken up, and as special business it was voted to do something for the benefit of the Maple Crest Sanatorium at East Parsonsfield, and it was decided to hold a Public Whist Party at the Hall, Tuesday evening, Oct. 21, to raise funds for same.

After the business meeting a social was held with games, songs, stunts, etc., with Mrs. Edna Cabot in charge and Mrs. Lena O'Brien at the piano. Particularly clever stunts were done by Mrs. Mary Knight and Mrs. Helen Hamblen. A farewell song to Mrs. Gilman was sung by the Club double quartet, consisting of Mrs. Bernice Lamb, Mrs. Mildred Larabee, Miss Gertrude Whitcomb, Mrs. LaVanche Staley, Mrs. Margaret Hutchins, Mrs. Edythe Cameron, Mrs. Helen Hamblen and Mrs. Edna Cabot. Words of the song were composed by Mrs. Hamblen and Mrs. Cabot, and it was sung to the tune of Auld Lang Syne. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Staley, Mrs. Hutchins and Mrs. Hamblen.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. With gladiolus, autumn leaves, and table cloth and napkins of crepe paper in the autumn leaf design. The Club presented Mrs. Gilman with a Federation pin, the most appropriate presentation speech being made by Miss Eva Shorey, and the program closed with a few farewell remarks by Mrs. Gilman. COMMUNITY FAIRS

Community Fairs, where neighbors get together and exhibit their fine stock and the best of their soil products, are becoming more and more popular as farmers learn more and more of the benefits derived. Not only do these gatherings have an educational value, but there is a social side to be considered. Farmers and their families get better acquainted with their neighbors near and far. Oftentimes friendships that last a lifetime are formed, and better the inspiration received from mingling with one another results in a more effective effort to do better farming. American farm homes are isolated. No effort has been made to build the home across the road from the adjoining farm home. Rather, each farmer seems to have selected a home site as far away from the neighbor as the limits of his land will permit. Therefore, it has not been convenient to be neighborly. This feature of American rural life is partially being overcome by better highways and the automobile. But the community fair is even doing more in bringing about a better acquaintance and in developing community pride and spirit.

Community co-operation has thus far proven of greater value to the individual than organizations covering a greater area. It is in community organization that the farmers learn to co-operate. The fact that farmers learn to walk before they can run, and farmers, who have studied production, but have been ignorant of marketing to an advantage, must begin in a small way. Co-operative marketing is the result of a practical education. The community should be the unity, and community fairs which bring about a neighborly understanding with one another, will prove important factors in the development of co-operative marketing and production on a large scale.

FATHERS' BE A CHUM TO YOUR BOY

What's your boy worth? Deep down in your heart you feel that he is the finest sample of boyhood in this big round world. There is nothing too good for him—no sacrifice too great to be made for him. Day in and day out, you work for him, plan for him, live for him. Always, he's first in your thoughts; nothing else matters so much. Is the manhood into which you wish him to grow worth the half hour or so that you might give him everynight in the day, stimulating, sympathizing, correcting, stimulating, urging to better things? Give it a trial.

Springtime advice: Don't fuss too long with the man who doesn't like to fight.

THE MOUNTAIN ROAD

By Fred M. Davis
(Written for Norway Advertiser)
"Sit down on this stone," were the words spoken to me by Dr. I. P. Symonds one day recently as I walked into the dooryard while he arose from his easy chair near his door and shook out and prepared a cushion on the door rock where I was soon seated comfortably. He threw his Sunday paper to one side and, although in the shade, he like myself, was busy mopping sweat that day, that trickled down his cheek like rain. Old reminiscences were rehearsed over while I called to mind the day when he sang that immortal song, entitled, "The Old Wooden Rocker," thirty years ago.

"Yes," said the doctor, "I generally take one day at Norway farm and that is going to be my exhibit this year," he said, as he pointed to the large number of melons in his vegetable garden that is a credit to its owner and ranks far ahead of any I have seen thus far this year.

"To raise products like that, your mode must be right," I said, as every kind was in evidence and, look where we may, it was a thing beautiful.

A cow-bell tinkled nearby. "And they are mine, too," the doctor said, as he leaned out and carry to the pasture fence an armful of fodder.

"Why they ever discontinued this road from here to Mud Pond is more than I can understand," the doctor said as we passed out, down the slope, with my arms full of good things to eat, to the traveled highway.

I had to laugh as the doctor opened the hen-yard door when a large, prospective flock fluttered and ran out through the narrow entrance to finish the day running free, liberated from their daily prison. I watched them as they stopped now and then to peck at a spear of grass on their way to open fields to bask in freedom.

"This is the road I mean that runs directly back of my old home," the doctor said, as he pointed toward the Greenwood hills and related to me that it came out at Mud Pond, a short distance this side of Greenwood City.

"This is not the upper nor the lower road," he said, "that I refer to, it is known as the middle road, running directly from Norway, by my house to the Hayes place, through to Mud Pond and Greenwood City."

"Well, doctor, of course you know," I said, "but I lived a while here at the corner thirty years ago and sure as cats catch mice, I never heard of a middle road."

"I could but listen with interest, for I knew very well that his statement was true. In speaking of rumors that I had heard lately of a new mountain road that was to take the place of the main traveled old county road that runs through that part of Maine, the doctor added that the middle road there would be the most direct road and far better as it was practically free from hills and cars could be seen without a shift of gears.

"Yes," I said, "I have often wondered, knowing as I do, why this direct route from Portland to Mt. Washington should be under rated, neglected, and the tourist be made to swerve or turn from the most direct, picturesque route."

On arriving at South Paris, I believe the reader will agree with me that the hills or the river road, which most of the way is truly considered uninteresting. I would not undertake to tell how many tourists have hailed me on Main Street here at Norway this summer and after being told, had to turn to the left down the cement and gravel road, and on their tracks, supposed of course, that the mountains can be reached by this straight-away course in a direct manner.

If such a road should materialize, it would mean a clean cut, quick transit from Norway to Lake Umbagog, a time saving route, economical in itself and pleasing to the eye. Where could we find a more scenic bit of road than traveling through the notch under Noyes mountain? It is not the small hamlets that tourists come to Maine for, it is the lure of her countless lakes, streams and mountains. If the idea of building this new mountain road is carried out within the next few years, I believe the commonwealth should unionize in the matter with a heart to heart interest for no chain is stronger than its weakest link.

A truck called in the yard and in a few minutes the driver gathered up a line of garden truck that was prepared and ready and was soon on its way to the market at Berlin, New Hampshire.

Mr. Symonds is well known as an anti-specializes on cattle testing and visits at regular intervals among the best herds for miles around during the winter months but in summer, works for no one but himself, tending to his own affairs at home.

My car called and I left the place with that thrill of joy that is always present in prosperous channels. Not wealthy. No, just comfortably fixed I found him, and far different from the pangs of poverty, representing "Poorer than a wharf rat."

As our car sped along, a voice from the back seat told me that the doctor is king of fishermen, an old time trapper and the smile that he wore is noticeable only where thrift abounds.

CASCO

Pomona Meets at Naples

One of the best and most enjoyable of meetings was that of Androsoggin and Cumbrian Pomona Grange at Naples, Tuesday, Oct. 14. The day was a very fine one and the scenery from the Grange hall was beautiful. Early in the day celebrities began to arrive from a distance and the attending members from Casco, Raymond and Naples were assembled for a busy day. The offices were filled by the following:

Master—Alton Keene.
Overseer—Gardner Cole.
Steward—Frank Jordan.
Chaplain—Mark Leach.
Lecturer—Amy Keene.

Treasurer—George Hanson.
Secretary—Jesse Hanson.
Asst. Steward—S. V. Hemphill.
Lady Steward—Ida Baker.
Gate Keeper—Irving Barker, Jr.

The singing of America, the salute to the flag and singing of the Star Spangled Banner was conducted by State Lecturer Harriman.

After the general routine of business, the time was given to State Lecturer Harriman, who instructed us in the merits of Juvenile Granges. He has been successful in forming many of these Granges for children under 14 years of age and his report was an excellent one. Through the courtesy and kindness of church members, the dinner was served to seventy-five people by the lady Grangers in the church dining room near by.

L. E. McIntire of Waterville then gave the address of the day and in talking on rural improvement brought up the important issues and topics to be considered and gave many helpful suggestions.

Miss Frances Cole, the Raymond prodigy on the violin, gave wonderful illustrations of her ability. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Crockett. Rev. F. B. Lyman of Naples then gave an inspiring talk on the subject of the Grange and the church.

Miss Gladys Jordan of Raymond gave one of her fine readings.

The singing of "State of Maine," and "Hurrah for Old New England," was then conducted by Lect. Libby, accompanied by his daughter. A treat of the day was the talk and recitations by Charles Marble of Winthrop, who emphasized the civilization of the lost Arts in home life and the Grange work.

Sister Bryant of South Bridgton entertained with a humorous recitation.

Lect. Libby gave a short talk on essentials and this with his geniality was fully appreciated. Mr. Hemphill of Exeter, Amy Keene of Lake, Frank Jordan of Casco, Gardner Cole of Riverside, Edwin Barker, Sr., of Naples and Mrs. Bryant of Bridgton, all gave short talks.

A rising vote of thanks was given by the Pomona Grange members to Messrs. Harriman, Marble, McIntire and Libby.

Master—Alton Keene.
Overseer—Gardner Cole.

The singing of America, the salute to the flag and singing of the Star Spangled Banner was conducted by State Lecturer Harriman.

After the general routine of business, the time was given to State Lecturer Harriman, who instructed us in the merits of Juvenile Granges. He has been successful in forming many of these Granges for children under 14 years of age and his report was an excellent one. Through the courtesy and kindness of church members, the dinner was served to seventy-five people by the lady Grangers in the church dining room near by.

L. E. McIntire of Waterville then gave the address of the day and in talking on rural improvement brought up the important issues and topics to be considered and gave many helpful suggestions.

Miss Frances Cole, the Raymond prodigy on the violin, gave wonderful illustrations of her ability. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Crockett. Rev. F. B. Lyman of Naples then gave an inspiring talk on the subject of the Grange and the church.

Miss Gladys Jordan of Raymond gave one of her fine readings.

The singing of "State of Maine," and "Hurrah for Old New England," was then conducted by Lect. Libby, accompanied by his daughter. A treat of the day was the talk and recitations by Charles Marble of Winthrop, who emphasized the civilization of the lost Arts in home life and the Grange work.

Sister Bryant of South Bridgton entertained with a humorous recitation.

Lect. Libby gave a short talk on essentials and this with his geniality was fully appreciated. Mr. Hemphill of Exeter, Amy Keene of Lake, Frank Jordan of Casco, Gardner Cole of Riverside, Edwin Barker, Sr., of Naples and Mrs. Bryant of Bridgton, all gave short talks.

A rising vote of thanks was given by the Pomona Grange members to Messrs. Harriman, Marble, McIntire and Libby.
